

What is Depth-interview?

What is Depth-interview?

A qualitative research method that uses a one-on-one interview format between the interviewer and the respondent, which allows the researcher to delve deeper into, for example, the process by which the product was purchased and why the respondent uses it, and to discover the attitudes and true intentions behind the purchase.